FORMED BY NATURE.

A dialogue of rhythm and form

A curated architectural statement nestled within the storied beauty of Jumeirah Islands. Known for its tranquil waterways, sculpted greenery, and discreet prestige, this enclave becomes the new canvas for Ellington's evolving design language.

Here, our signature aesthetic, defined by clean lines, expressive materials, and a reverence for form and function finds new expression. Framed by reflective waters and layered foliage, Altiera Heights is not just a place to live; it is a place to observe, breathe, and belong.

Every residence is attuned to its setting, with spatial choreography that embraces dual aspects, soft light, and curated perspectives, making each view not just a sightline, but a moment of clarity.

GROUNDING IN ARCHITECTURE.

Radiance in structure

A sculptural residential tower where light becomes architecture. With a rhythmic façade of glazing, screens, and metallic accents, the building responds to the sun's movement, creating a luminous, ever-shifting exterior. Its organic silhouette and layered materials invite passive cooling and visual calm. Inside, expansive windows and reflective surfaces choreograph natural light, fostering serenity.

Rooftop and communal spaces deepen the dialogue between light, form, and wellbeing, offering an immersive living experience shaped by elegance and atmosphere.

A PRELUDE IN CANOPY.

Arrival as experience

A serene threshold between city and sanctuary, the drop-off unfolds as a landscaped forecourt defined by rhythm, materiality, and movement. Framed by curated greenery and sculpted hardscape, the arrival plaza offers a moment of pause, where textured paving, soft lighting, and layered planting guide the journey inward.

Discrete visitor parking bays are seamlessly integrated within the natural flow of the entry sequence, maintaining clarity while preserving the visual quiet of the space. The drop-off zone itself is sheltered and deliberate, an architectural gesture of welcome, where scale, proportion, and planting create an atmosphere of composed elegance.

MOMENT AT ARRIVAL.

Framed by purposeful design

The lobby is conceived as a refined transitional space, offering a serene passage from the dynamic urban environment to the intimate comfort of home. Every element is carefully curated to embody quiet sophistication from the soft, tone-on-tone flooring and expansive white portals to the sculpted, organic forms that ease the spatial flow.

Minimal furnishings emphasize clarity and calm, while material contrasts introduce depth and balance. Blackened steel frames and a striking burned orange marble reception desk lend an urban boldness, juxtaposed against the softness of curved forms and diffused ambient lighting. White marble feature walls and gentle natural light streaming from the verdant outdoors soften the composition, blurring the line between exterior and interior.

BATHED IN SOFT GLOW.

Composed for conversation

Organic gestures soften the geometry, curved furniture, statement pendants, and graceful chairs invite pause and connection. Soft, diffused lighting gently highlights these details, while daylight from lush outdoor views seamlessly integrates nature's richness.

Tactile yet understated, the materiality speaks softly. Warm greys and deep oranges create a delicate dialogue with sleek finishes. This is a space both composed and dynamic where restful luxury is balanced with an urban edge.
